HELP FILE

INTRO

If you're not experienced, please have a read through this document before opening the .indd file. Even if you are experienced, you might find some valuable information inside that you can use to personalise this layout.

This is a helpful setup guide with general information to help you get the most out of your new template.

If you have any issues, please don't hesitate to get in touch – or have a look on Google for particular technical questions that you may have.

FO NTS

The two fonts that are in the document are completely free and can be used for personal or commercial use. You can find the fonts in fonts folder and you must have them installed or enabled on your system before opening the InDesign file. Or download them by clicking the links below

PREVIOUS VERSIONS

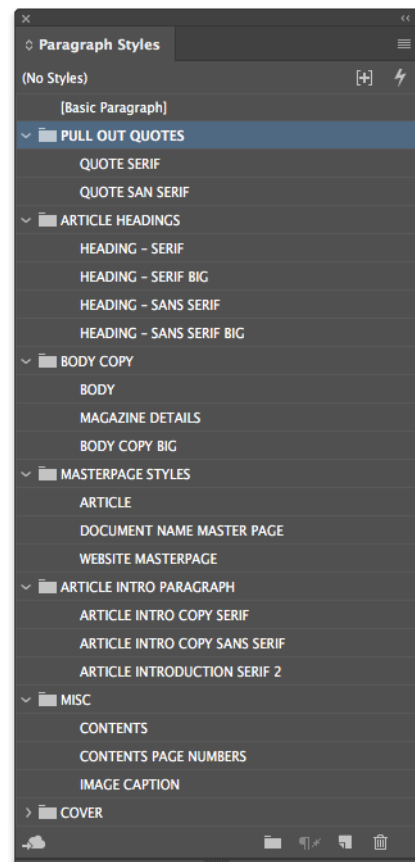

All files are saved from the latest version of InDesign (CC 2017). If you have an earlier version of Indesign, there are files ending in .idml that you can use instead.

The file will open in the desired version. Once open, immediately save it with a new file name. You may need to relink the image files.

PARAGRAPH STYLES

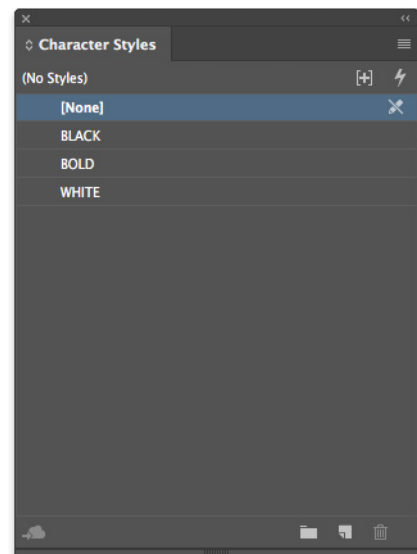

All of the typography is controlled by paragraph styles. It makes it easy to make global changes to the text across the entire document.

To make a change, double click on the style you want to modify and change the settings in the dialogue box. Make sure that the preview box is ticked so you can see the effect of the changes you are making.

CHARACTER STYLES

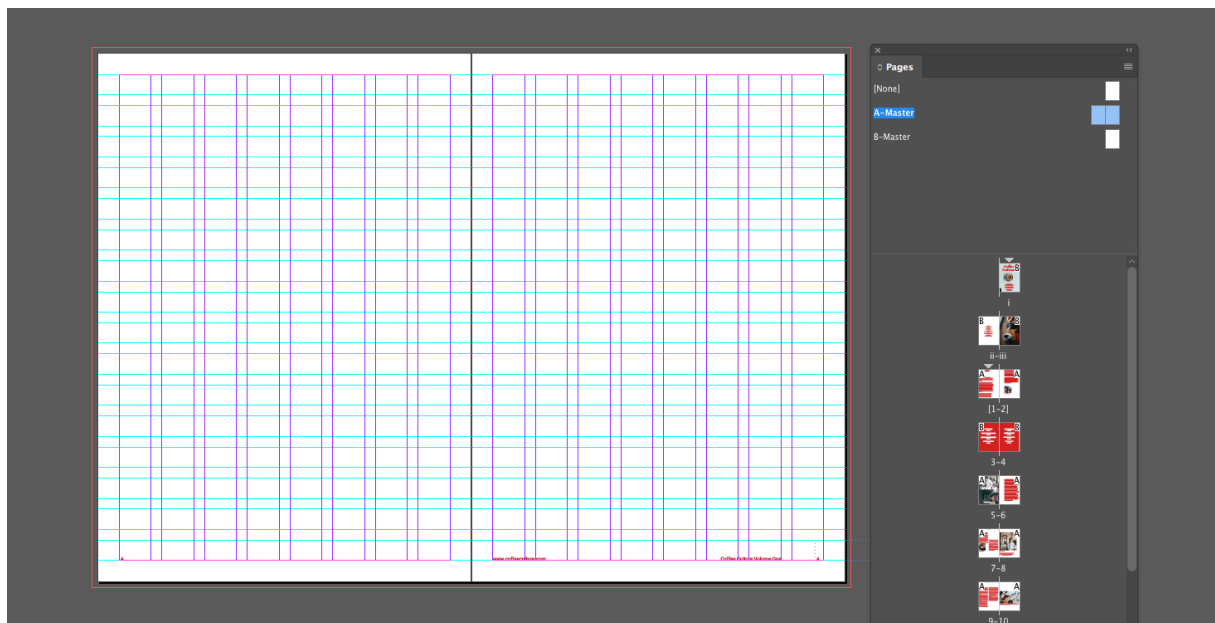

Character styles are attributes that are only applied to 'parts' of the text, for example: Bold or Regular. So it is easier to add character styles to sections of text rather than a 'whole' formatting style.

MASTERPAGES

The Masterpages have been set up with the grid that is used across all of the layouts. Use these to create more pages in your document.

There are page numbers in the top corners that will automatically update across the whole document. For spread that you don't require page numbers, use the second set of Master pages.

IMAGES

All of the images are completely free for you to use however you please with no restrictions.
